AFTER RECOVERY OF OIL DIVIDENDS

C. C. Bosworth, receiver of the Bourbon Oil and Development Company, filed suit in the Fayette Circuit Court, Tuesday, against C. L. Bell and more than 600 other stockholders in the oil company.

The suit is to recover dividends paid to the stockholders in 1918 and 1919, when, it is alleged the company had not made any profits out of which to pay dividends. The receiver sets forth that every investment of the company was a losing proposition and that the dividends were paid out of the capital stock or money borrowed. The receiver seeks to recover the sums paid out in dividends to apply to the indebtedness of the corporation.

The suit does not state the entire amount which it seeks to recover, but all of the 600 or more defendants are named with the amount each is sued for.

C. L. Bell leads the stockholders list, having received $12,000 in dividends, the petition states.

J. A. Edge is attorney for the plaintiff.

63,000 FARMERS NOW IN BURLEY POOL

More than 63,000 farmers have joined the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, according to the figures presented by Assistant Chief William Collins, of Paris, of the field service division, to the board of directors of the association in regular monthly session at the offices of the association in Lexington, Wednesday. To the 55,617 members of the association at the time it was declared on last November 15, with the signing up of 85 per cent. of the 1920 acreage, there have been added since July 1, Mr. Collins reported.

President Stone warmly commended Assistant Chief Collins, of the field service division, for the work of his department in signing up so many new members.

Admission of the Burley Tobacco Grower, official organ of the association, to the second class mail privilege, was reported by a committee composed of Vice-President James N. Kehoe and Bush W. Allin and Miss Carmen Hallmeyer, of the legal department, who went to Washington to take the matter up with the postoffice department, following a failure to obtain favorable results by correspondence.

DON'T FORGET MR. CANTRELL

Democrats don't forget there is a man asking you for office who has left an unchallenging record. Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell is seeking re-election. He is a Scott county citizen, you owe him your vote and you should make an effort to get to the polls to-morrow, Saturday, August 5th.

Numerous Democratic voters throughout the county think that Mr. Cantrell has little opposition but they only know the conditions prevailing in Bourbon county. His opponent is making a hard fight. Mr. Cantrell is a true Kentuckian, serving his congressional district unselfishly, and Democrats should give him their votes in appreciation for the work he has done.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

Railway executives Tuesday firmly but courteously rejected the program advanced by the Harding administration for settlement of the rail strike.

Willing to accept conditionally two suggestions put forward by the White House—that both sides abide by wage decisions of the railroad labor board and that law suits springing out of the strike be withdrawn—the heads of 148 roads declared emphatically that it was impossible to reinstate strikers with unimpaired rights, the third provision in the President's plan.

The decision not to yield as to seniority was made known to the White House by telegraph after the rail heads had listened to a 20-minute address by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who, as direct representative of the President, told them in effect that the administration held the seniority question of minor importance in comparison with that of upholding the labor board.

After being told by Robert S. Lovett, of the Union Pacific that there was no moral or practical reason from budging from their position, the executives disbanded, indicating that they were going ahead and would operate their roads with the forces they had assembled since the shopmen walked out July 1.

The federated shop crafts Wednesday voted approval of President Harding's plans to end the rail strike and appointed a committee to draw up a reply accepting them. The reply, however, will be subject to amendment by the more than 100 labor chiefs before going to the President.

The first announcement from the labor leaders simply said that they had voted acceptance.

Later it developed that some opposition had sprung up in the meeting and that a fight against the acceptance might be made after the text of it was drawn up. For this reason it was made subject to amendment. The meeting will resume its session at 3:30 p. m.

Timothy Haley, president of the Stationary Firemen and Oilers' union, the only other organization on strike, announced that his organization would concur in the Shop Crafts action.

Further government action in the railroad strike was held in abeyance though railroad executives who refused President Harding's suggestions for settlement were understood to have apprised administration agencies that the door was still open for negotiations.

If protection in seniority status acquired by shopmen who have continued to work in spite of the strike could be guaranteed, any basis of settlement the President might find fair would be favorably considered by the magnates, it was added, had brought no immediate tangible results.

Cabinet members who saw the President for discussion of strike matters indicated the feeling that claims of railroad managements as to their ability to maintain transportation would get a test during the next few days. These officials left the inference that if the strike demonstrated symptoms of dissolution, as predicted by the carriers, the President might move again.

It again was emphasized that the nation's necessity for at least a minimum coal supply largely had governed the President's action in the rail strike to date. This was most important in the prospect it held out that coal carrying roads of the district south of the Ohio river might draw particular government attention, or even control, unless betterment of their transportation capacity is accomplished very soon.

DAMAGES BY STORM

A windstorm, which for a time threatened to do extensive damage, visited this section about nine o'clock Tuesday night. The sudden squalls sent pedestrians hurrying to shelter. The storm was accompanied by a vivid display of lightning, and some rain. The street lights and the lights in the residential portions of the city, as well as power and current, as usual, were out of commission for a time. Considerable damage was reported from many sections of the county, growing corn being leveled to the ground and a number of trees and telephone poles blown down. Very little damage was done in Paris.

LARGE LAMB SALES

Over 2,000 sheep and lambs, averaging $10 a head, were sold at the weekly sale of the Fayette County Lamb and Wool Co-operative Association, held in Lexington, Wednesday. Caywood & Jones, of North Middletown, purchased 239 lambs, averaging 32 pounds, for $12.90; 126 lambs, averaging 79 pounds, for $13.25, and 263 seconds, averaging 63 pounds, for $9.35.

POULTRY CULLING DEMONSTRATIONS FOR BOURBON

Six poultry culling demonstrations designed to show farmers and poultrymen how to distinguish between the laying and non-laying hens in their flock will be held in this county during the latter part of August, under direction of the College of Agriculture extension division at Lexington, according to an announcement received from the college. The series of meetings, which will be in charge of J. R. Smyth, poultry extension specialist, will open August 14, and continue through August 16.

The schedule of meetings showing the owners of farms on which the demonstrations will be held, together with the day and the time follows:

Carlton Ball, Paris, August 14, 10 a. m.; A. J. Thaxton, Millersburg, August 14, 2 p. m.; J. R. Letton, Paris, August 15, 10 a. m.; Miss Luella A. Jones, Paris, August 15, 2 p. m.; J. W. Bell, Paris, August 16, 10 a. m.

Farmers in the vicinity of each of the demonstrations have been invited to attend the various meetings in order that they may learn the method of distinguishing between the laying and loafing hens. Mr. Smyth will go through the flock on each farm pointing out the indications which show that some hens have stopped laying until spring, while others are still laying. Those whose flocks are culled in the demonstrations will keep egg production records a week before and a week after the culling in order to prove that the hens which are removed as culs were not laying.

Practically every flock in the State has its share of loafer or non-laying hens at this time of the year, poultry men of the college say. On the average, about one-third of the hens in the State stop laying each year about this time, after which they do not produce any more eggs until the following spring. They are the early moulters of the flock and indications which they show at this time of the year make it easy to pick them out.

Culling out these loafer hens has five distinctive advantages, the poultrymen say. It saves feed, makes more room for the laying hens and pullets, utilizes waste feed for the laying hens and pullets and eliminates poor hens from the flock so that they will not be used as breeders. In addition, putting these low producing hens on the market at this time of the year insures a better price for them than could be obtained if they are held until later in the season when the market for hens is flooded.

COMMUNITY SERVICE NOTES

Community Service announces that the Labor Day picnic will be held in Letton woods. They have been very fortunate in securing Jas. Connell as chairman, which goes to say that the picnic will be a success. I. W. Bush and Harold Harris have consented to act as the publicity committee. A speaker of national reputation will be an added feature, music by a band, dancing, and a program will be arranged for the afternoon that will include all ages. Community Service expects to make this a real picnic, so plan to come early, bring your lunch, spend the day and help to make this the best picnic ever held in Bourbon county.

The date for the tennis tournament has been set for the week of August 28. The tournament will be divided into two classes—the Junior for boys and girls 18 years and under, the Senior for all over that age. Four prizes will be given, two to each class. The ladies' and men's doubles will play their partner to determine the winner. The tournament is open to anyone in Bourbon county, and will be held on the Community Service courts. These courts are in good condition, and the public is cordially invited to go there to play. A number of good players have already signified their intention to enter. Anyone who wishes to enter will call Miss Grace Cruickshank, the executive secretary of Community Service, between two and three p. m. at her office in the Commercial Club.

GREAT ACTOR IN "THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER."

One of the greatest actors of either stage or screen to-day has a powerful and totally "different" role in "The Mysterious Rider," the newest Hodkinson release from the novel by Zane Grey, which is the attraction at the Alamo and Grand Saturday afternoon and evening. That actor is Robert McKim, justly famous with motion picture goers for his "heavy" roles of the past and now reaching a new fame in bigger, finer, more sympathetic roles.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Three of the seven negroes arrested by Sheriff Collier and Deputies Gibson and Gilkey, charged with crapshooting, appeared before Acting County Judge Dundon in the County Court, Tuesday, and, upon entering pleas of guilty, were fined $20 and costs each. McKinley Perkins, proved he had been merely a spectator, and was dismissed. A court of inquiry was also held in an effort to discover the ownership of two quarts of moonshine whiskey found in a coat near the scene of the game, but nothing developed.

Clarence Hawkins, Jas. Frye and Alex Gibson, all colored, were arrested by Winchester police, on advice from Sheriff Collier, of Bourbon county, that the men were wanted here on a gambling charge. They were members of a bunch of negroes rounded up by Sheriff Collier and deputies Gibson and Gilkey, at a colored picnic near North Middletown, Saturday, making their escape at the time. The men were brought to Paris and arraigned in the County Court Tuesday before Acting Judge Dundon. They were fined $25 and costs each.

In the County Court, the warrant against Alex Gibson, colored, charging him with having liquor illegally in his possession, was dismissed.

WILL ROGERS IN "A POOR RELATION."

"He's got no tobacco in his old tobacco box"—Nearly everyone has heard the dreamy, sing-song melody, which Will Rogers uses to lull his kiddies to sleep with in "A Poor Relation," a Goldwyn Picture, coming to the Alamo and Grand, this afternoon and night.

One of the hardest bits of acting for children is the sleeping scene. The little eyelids will flutter open. Rogers gathers up the little ones in this picture and so realistically does he make them feel the soothing effect of his crooning voice, that the children put over their little scene like experienced actors. If the audience will watch, the words of the old songs as Rogers sings it are easily discernible.

In every community there are people who have been wonderfully restored to health by taking Tanlac. Try it. Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. (adv)

650 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO BURLEY POOL

Contracts to the number of 650 were reported to the office of the Field Service Division of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association as having been signed the past week, according to a statement given out Saturday at the offices of the Association. Of this number M. Mansfield, of Carrollton, led with 161 signed in Adair county. Workers in Hardin county signed up 61 new members, Larue furnished 16, Taylor 25 and Fleming 8.

Madison county went to an eighty-five per cent. sign-up Saturday, when Albert T. Day, of Maysville, who has been working in that county, turned in 41 contracts. Members of the Association in Madison have been greatly pleased with the increase in the membership made by Mr. Day, through personal presentation of the co-operative marketing proposition to the growers of that county.

Frank C. Green, Louisville lawyer and former representative in the General Assembly from Carroll and Gallatin counties, spoke to a big crowd in Taylor county Saturday. New contracts were signed after the meeting, but the Taylor county workers did not give the number.

Officials of the Association express gratification with the gain of more than 500 members a week and say that if these results can be attained without a concerted drive the probability is that, when the district-wide drive is put on, it will end with 99 per cent. of the growers of the district in the organization. No report from the Huntington, West Virginia and Western Ohio territory was received Saturday, but this territory has been yielding from 150 to 200 new contracts each week and it was said that the workers probably had signed in that territory more than 175 members since the previous Saturday.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

A prominent composer of jazz music says: "Jazz music is still in its infancy." Or, to be more exact, it is still at the colic stage.

How near to nothing is near beer,
How watery, eh, what!
But ordering you often hear:
"You want the best we got?"

Paris girl says there are only two styles in bathing suits this summer, those suitable for stout women over sixty, and those suitable for denunciation from the pulpit.

Heard yesterday that a Paris man with an ingrowing and out-cropping thurst complains that the authorities are making Paris so dry that he has to grease his lips with a bacon rind every time he whistles for his dog. Gee, aint it awful?

The appearance on the streets of Paris, Ky., recently of a handsome girl attired in knickerbockers, nearly caused a stampede from on-lookers. Somehow, feminine apparel has an abiding attraction for certain people whether it be on or off.

I am convinced a woman can love this, or that, or any other man; This day she's melting hot,
To-morrow swears she knows you not;
If she but a new object find,
Then straight she's of another mind.

If these strikes continue much longer bear in mind George Washington's formula for keeping warm all winter with one billet of wood: "Carry it to the top floor, heave it out the window, run downstairs and carry it up again. Continue this until the following May."

There still may be seen in some parts of Kentucky signboards advertising a certain brand of whiskey whose motto was: "Born With The Republic." The billboards failed to add: "Died With the Eighteenth Amendment."

Headline over Weather Bureau item in Lexington Herald said: "July not so warm." Where do you get that kind of information? Rather queer statement even for the weather man, used to all kinds of predictions and statements. Ask any office-bound worker whether or not July was warm! We say it was!

There's trouble in the land, especially in Paris. Why? Several things! For instance: Every time a slight cloud appears in the sky near the sub-station, or anywhere in the vicinity of the interurban line, out go the electric lights and off goes the power current in Paris.

And again: The supposedly wholesome drinking water supplied Paris patrons is becoming almost unusable, many housekeepers resorting to the use of spring water, cistern water, any kind of water that is drinkable and usable. And again—but, anyhow, what's the matter and what's going to be done?

Sure, flappers are liberty belles. And it looks like their motto is, "Feel off, wild belles."

LOWER INSURANCE RATE ON TOBACCO IN BARN

Lower insurance rates on tobacco in barns may grow out of a movement started some time ago, state representatives now being engaged in working out a plan to present the matter of lower rates to the Kentucky Fire Insurance Underwriters' Association.

In addition to a lower rate it is said that agreement practically has been reached to increase considerably the amount of insurance allowed on tobacco, the proposed maximum being approximately $225 to $300 an acre, which is about twice the amount allowed per acre last year.

The proposal for lower rates is credited to what one of the State agents called "the systematic and business-like methods of handling tobacco used by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association." S. B. Kennedy, of the Winchester Fire Insurance Company, is head of the committee working on this proposition, which also will include a central adjustment bureau for the prompt settlement of any claim of growers on policies on tobacco in barns.

The proposal for lower rates on insurance in barns, it was said by one of the State agents, is not justified by experience of the companies for the past five years with this class of business, as it has not proven a particularly profitable class, but the business-like system of the new Burley Association is said to have impressed the insurance men. The great increase in price over a year ago caused the decision to increase the maximum of insurance allowed the growers.

Some time ago Vice-President and Manager Claude F. Snyder, of the Henry Clay Fire Insurance Company wrote Manager C. H. Parker, of the Kentucky Actural Bureau, which makes fire insurance rates, calling his attention to this business and suggesting the advisability of readjusting rates so as to provide better protection for the growers during the time their tobacco is hanging in the barns and before its delivery to the Association.

NEW YORK G. O. P. TURNS AGAINST HARDING

The New York State Republican organization has declared in effect against the renomination of Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, and for the nomination of Nathan L. Miller, of New York, for President in 1924. In resolutions adopted at the recent Republican State Convention, Governor Miller is called "the greatest statesman of the age."

Various Republican State primaries have already repudiated the Harding administration, or rather what passes for the policies of the administration, but this is the first specific repudiation of President Harding himself—and his term is not yet half over.

The Harding administration, therefore, has nothing to gain by a Republican victory in New York this year. For that matter it would have nothing to gain by a Republican victory in Indiana, Iowa, North Dakota and Nebraska.

In the meantime, it is in order for his Republican friends and associates to extend their sympathy and condolence to the Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, who until now has been regarded as New York's greatest statesman in public life.

BLUE SKY LAW IS HELD VALID

In overruling the motion of Thos. M. King, trustee of the Shareholders' Syndicate, to quash an indictment charging him with violation of the blue sky law, Judge A. T. Burgevin, of Louisville, held that the law enacted in 1920 was constitutional. It was the first test of the law in Kentucky, it was said, and will be carried to the Court of Appeals.

The defendant, who was indicted April 27, 1922, for alleged sale of a certificate to Mrs. Mary L. Gray for $30 without the investment concern having obtained permission of the State banking commission, demurred to the indictment. He contended the law did not apply to trustee states and attacked its constitutionality.

MADDEN GETS BIG SUM FOR BUD LERNER

Word was received in Lexington that the 2-year-old colt, Bud Lerner, considered the best colt in the East, which has shown to date, was sold by John E. Madden, to Sam Hildreth, of New York, for the reported price of $40,000. Bud Lerner is now stabled at Saratoga Springs.

Several weeks ago Mr. Madden put the price of $75,000 on Bud Lerner and Dunlin. Dunlin was sold a week ago to J. S. Cosden for $37,000.

FORMER PARISIAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harold Ewalt, member of the firm of McNamara, Ewalt & Guilfoyle, of Mt. Sterling, narrowly escaped death late Tuesday afternoon when his car ran over an embankment, near Boonesboro on the Kentucky River. Mr. Ewalt, with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baber, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mitchell, of Mt. Sterling, and Miss Kate Napier, of Paris, had taken the Williams camp for a ten days' stay. Shortly after their arrival at the camp, Mr. Ewalt started for water and turned his car too close to the edge and ran into a ravine, falling a distance of about 30 feet. He was taken to the hospital at Winchester shortly after the accident. He was badly bruised about the face and body, his shoulder and one ankle were sprained and his back badly wrenched.

Mr. Ewalt was formerly in the employ of the J. T. Hinton Co., in Paris, where he was highly esteemed. Mr. Mitchell, who was in the party, was also formerly of Paris, and was also employed with the Hinton Co. John McNamara, Mr. Ewalt's partner, is also a Paris boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McNamara, of Pleasant street.

HOLDING TUBERCULOSIS CLINICS THROUGHOUT STATE

Conditions found by Dr. S. W. Bates, superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium, and Dr. J. S. Lock, director of the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium, while they were holding their tuberculosis clinics recently at different points in the State indicate, according to Dr. A. T. McCormick, State Health Officer, that such clinics should be held all through Kentucky if the best possible progress is to be made in fighting the dread "white plague."

At these clinics, according to Dr. Bates, 268 persons in all were examined for the disease. Fifty-eight active cases were found, and forty-five arrested inactive cases. Of the fifty-eight persons who had active cases of the disease, twelve never had seen a doctor and did not suspect that they were victims of tuberculosis.

"These conditions are absolutely typical," Dr. McCormick said. All over Kentucky there are persons who have tuberculosis without knowing it. These and other clinics that have been held show the need for more clinics and earlier consultation with competent physicians by persons who suspect that they may have the disease."

SOME TOBACCO LIARS

(Stanford Interior-Journal)
Some unique liars have developed among those whose selfish personal interests cause them to oppose the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association. Up in the West Virginia burley counties one of the arguments against the association is that a grower must have several of his neighbors "go on a note with him" before he can get any money on his tobacco. The ridiculous falsehood of such a statement, of course, is known to every member of the association, but some outsiders who have no newspapers to inform themselves are deceived by these statements and, of course, remain out of the association.

This has been one of the handicaps, according to some of the men working in West Virginia to the movement, but since a delegation from West Virginia came down here and looked over the field and went back and told their neighbors what they found in Kentucky—of the many satisfied growers, how they received an advance of about a third of the value of their tobacco when they delivered it, "without a note nor nothing" now, and another third on the second payment, with prospects of about the same amount on a final payment. Clifton Rodes and his workers in that territory are not finding their task so difficult.

When farmers once thoroughly understand the co-operative marketing proposition they adopt it. Our West Virginia friends will come in when they understand just as the Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana growers have done.

INDIANA FRUIT TREES ARE OVERLOADED

Peach and apple trees all over Clark county, Indiana, are breaking down from the weight of the heavy crop of fruit. According to farmers thousands of bushels of the fruit must go to waste because there is no way to dispose of the surplus. In some localities in the county automobile tourists are invited to visit the orchards and help themselves in order to relieve the trees of part of their burdens.

IS AMERICA A FREE COUNTRY?

"This is a free country. The majority rules here!" A proud American boasts this, which we are all fond of making to our foreign friends.

Is this a free country? Does the majority rule? Many a patriotic and home-loving citizen is asking himself these questions. Is it a case of majority rule when the well-organized minority in a basic industry can jeopardize the entire Nation? Is it a free country, or a majority rule Government, when any "bloc" in House or Senate can dictate legislation in the interests of any part of a hundred millions as opposed to the interests of the whole? Is it a free country when any religious bias attempts to interfere with the schools of the Nation?

War breeds hate, hate breeds fanaticism, fanaticism breeds intolerance, intolerance breeds oppression, anarchy, Bolshevism, fear. We have had the war, and experienced the hate and the fanaticism. But we, the American people, with the love of freedom and independence, which is the priceless heritage given us by our traditions, our history, and our love of what we truly think of as God's country, do not have to follow the road to the end; we do not have to absorb the intolerance, or experience the oppression, anarchy, Bolshevism, fear.

The way is clear; we have but to apply to these our present problems that ideal for which our forefathers fought, which Washington put in practical operation, which Lincoln upheld. We have but to remember that before we are farmers, strikers, strike breakers, legislators belonging to a bloc, members of any special group, or upholders of any special faith, we are first of all, good Americans.

While we all remember that, this will be a land where the majority rules. When we forget it, and only when we forget it, can this cease to be a free country.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Paris Reader

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorser who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It is from a Paris resident:

Phillip M. Heller, proprietor meat market, 314 Second street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited by them. My back was weak and lame and my kidneys acted too frequently, causing me to get up during the night. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Varden & Son's Drug Store gave me fine relief. I certainly think Doan's are a splendid remedy and gladly recommend them to anyone." (Statement given November 9, 1916.)

On November 12, 1920, Mr. Heller said: "I am glad to say the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me has been lasting. I gladly confirm my former statement."

CATALOGUES FOR KENTUCKY STATE FAIR READY

The catalogues for the 1922 State fair at Louisville are off the press and show that a record amount in prizes will be offered the farmers of Kentucky during fair week, September 11 to 16, the total being $106,000. The largest individual stake is the award in the $10,000 five-gaited saddle horse stake to be decided the closing night of the fair.

Although the awards for the horse department, which includes mules, are far in the lead in the total amount. The prizes for the cattle department total more than $25,000.

In compiling the awards, the women's department is not slighted, the amounts extending far more than those of any previous year, with a total of $6,500. This department is under the direct supervision of W. C. Hanna, commissioner of agriculture, Mrs. Margaret Jones being the superintendent.

NUTS VALUABLE BY-PRODUCTS ON FARMS

Native nuts, not the two-legged variety locked up and at large, but the kind that grow on trees, are valuable farm by-products, which should be cultivated so as to produce the best quality in the largest quantities, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Black walnut, hickory, and pecan trees are of economic importance on account of the nuts produced, as well as for the woods. Every tree intended for quantity production of nuts should have plenty of space. Trees should be spaced from 60 to 100 feet apart. A fertile soil that is reasonably moist is best, and well drained clay loam the most desirable. Nut trees do not come true to seed and the only way to reproduce a variety or an identical type is by grafting or budding.

Bread cast on the waters does come back, and this letter received at Salvation Army headquarters recently proves it. The letter writer, who remains anonymous, says:

"Dear Sir: Almost four years ago in France I lost my pay shooting against what later proved loaded dice. I had no smokes until you came along. Then I was jake. "Things haven't been so bright with me, but last night I got the inclosed in a small game and it seemed just in time to sort of repay you."

"FORMER DOUGHBOY."

"P. S.: These dice were on the square." There was a wrinkled $1 bill and 10 cents in the envelope.

Mr. Davis was for many years an active factor in the business life of Paris, and was prominently identified with all the important projects and business interests of the city. He was for four years postmaster of Paris, under the second administration of President Grover Cleveland. Following his retirement from that position he became manager of the Paris Milling Company, a position he filled with signal ability for several years, afterward engaging in the retail shoe business in partnership with his son-in-law, Roger Q. ## BASE BALL

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY GAMES

Paris at Lexington.
Mt. Sterling at Maysville.
Cynthiana at Winchester.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Paris 0, Cynthiana 2.
Mt. Sterling 0, Winchester 1.
Maysville 3, Lexington 6.

Paris tried out three pitchers in the exhibition game with Mt. Sterling on the latter's grounds, Tuesday afternoon, losing out by the score of 5 to 2. Marks, a new importation, Bracke, erstwhile catcher, and Hurst, second baseman, presided at times on the pitching mound. "Lefty" Thompson, pitching for Mt. Sterling, let the Mammoths down without a hit. Mt. Sterling will play a return exhibition game on the Paris grounds next Tuesday afternoon. The batteries were: For Paris—Bracke, Marks, Hurst and Brockman; for Mt. Sterling—Townsend and Lackey. The game went for two hours and was umpired by Marks, Neyrey and Minerly.

Pitcher McCord, the Maysville twirler, who started with Paris in the first half of the Bluegrass League season, is now a member of the Maysville Club, having been signed up Tuesday. McCord took part in the game at Maysville yesterday with Lexington.

There has been some talk of playing off the postponed Cynthiana-Lexington game to-day, and that the contest would be transferred from Lexington to Cynthiana. Cynthiana is coming as strong as any team in the Bluegrass League, and the other teams having an eye on the pennant may have to go some.

Howard Camnitz, who made a great record as pitcher of the Pittsburg team in the 1909 world championship series has been signed as manager of the Winchester team in the Blue Grass League. Camnitz arrived yesterday and at once took up his new duties.

This has been a busy week in selling and trading circles in Bluegrass League. Paris sold Miner to the Maysville club; Lexington sold Monholland to the Cynthiana club; "Rasty" Wright sold himself to the Lexington club, but discovered later that he was not permitted to play there, Winchester having undisputed claim on him; Paris let out Miner because it has become a matter of good policy for the good of the game locally.

Cicena, of the Paris team, continues to lead the Bluegrass League in hitting. He is also leading in consecutive hitting, having run his string up in ten games.

Pitcher Blakefield, who has been at his home in Wayland, for some time, nursing a lame arm, is back again, and is being given the glad hand by local fans. Blakefield is now in the pink of condition, and has all the earmarks of a coming record-breaker. He is a former teammate of Hurst, and was a terror in the Appalachian League. Blakefield will make good here, and will have the hearty support of the fans.

The Methodists took the measure of their opponents, the Christians, in the Church League game played on Hancock field, Tuesday afternoon, by the close margin of one run. The final score stood 10 to 9. The next game in the series will be played on Hancock field this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock between the Presbyterians and Baptists.

WOMEN ARE QUEER!

Women are queer things. no doubt about that. They hate to be thin and they hate to be fat.

One moment it's laughter. the next it is cry. And you can't understand them however you try.

But there's one thing about them that everyone knows, A woman's not dressed 'till she powders her nose.

"I've studied the sex for a number of years.

On her ways and her whims I've pondered a lot, To learn what will please her and just what will not.

But all I have learned from the start to the close

Is that sooner or later she'll powder her nose.

"At church or a ball game, at dance or a show, There's one thing about them I know:

At weddings or funerals or dinners of taste

You'll find that her hand will dive into waist,

And every few minutes she'll strike up a pose.

And the whole world will wait till she powders her nose."

PURE FOOD OFFICIALS COMPLIMENT PARIS HOUSE

Officials representing the Pure Food Commission were in Paris several days this week, and paid an official inspection visit to a number of places. Among them was the Benedetti Confectionery, which was given a thorough looking-over and inspection. The officials stated to Mr. Benedetti, that out of the many establishments they had visited in State in the past few weeks the Benedetti place was one of three that was absolutely one hundred per cent. clean and sanitary, conforming in every respect to the rigid requirements of the Health Board and Pure Food Act. This is quite a compliment to Mr. Benedetti and his associates.

Mr. Benedetti informed a NEWS representative Wednesday that he was using pure spring water in the manufacture of his products and that nothing but the best entered into anything he handled. He is using from sixty to one hundred gallons of pure spring water each day, being supplied in sanitary tanks from a large spring near Paris.

HER BATHING SUIT GAVE WAY.

(New York Herald).
More than 200,000 persons, the largest crowd so far this year, went to Coney Island recently, according to an estimate made by Police Capt. John J. Hughes.

Miss Shirley Lewis, a Greenwich Village cartoonist, went out in a rowboat wearing a futuristic oilcloth bathing suit designed by Charlotte Le Blang, a village sculptress. There was little enough of the bathing suit, and when no policemen were near Miss Lewis rowed out a short distance and poised for a dive for the benefit of photographers. A wave tipped the boat. Miss Lewis jerked pluckily backward and the oilcloth suit failed her miserably. She had a bathrobe with her, but several persons got their feet wet in the excitement.

AIR MAIL TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW

During the year just closed the air mail service of the Postoffice Department carried a million and a quarter pounds of mail, aggregating forty-nine million letters, on the various laps between New York and San Francisco. This body of mail was carried with no grave accident, with no loss of life, with an increase over the previous year of "trips completed" of almost 10 per cent; 92.5 per cent this year against 83 per cent last year.

The flying time between New York and San Francisco is at present three days. When a sufficient number of lighthouses are erected to guide night fliers, this time may be cut in half; in other words, mail, via airplane, between New York and San Francisco, is now predicted to be as rapid as our present Chicago-New York mail, which averages a day and a half between posting and delivery.

Congress has "starved" the air mail service to a large extent by a failure to provide money enough to permit the extension of the service. It is being freely predicted in official Washington circles that with the showing the air-mail service has just made, it will be impossible for even the most rabid economists in the Capitol to continue much longer the "do-nothing" policy which prevents air mail routes from being extended, and its quick-service blessings given to the other great commercial centers of the nation.

MODERN PYRAMIDS

It is difficult to find a subject much less alluring than cold statistics about safe deposit vaults. Apparently realizing this, says the Nation's Business, a Chicago bank has just issued a piece of unique publicity, in which a fancy fringe embroiders the dry facts. The idea is worth passing along to every business man who is interested in new means of lightening and decorating prosaic material.

The fringe consists of an original jingle which sets forth that the pyramids were the first safe deposit vaults, being intended for the safe-keeping of the monarch's mummy; but that in time a prying person "with a mental twist—known as an archeologist," dug up the mummy. It continues:

If Ramesses
Lived in these days,
He'd find that new
And modern ways
Are far better
Than anything
Devised by old
Egyptian kings,
Of thieves and thugs
Himself he'd rid,
And never build
A pyramid.
He'd rent a drawer,
Without a fault,
In a modern safe
Deposit vault.

VITAMINE SECRET SOUGHT IN CORN

Experiments With Growing Grain Indicate Chlorophyll Is Necessary to Production.

COD LIVER IS RICHEST SOURCE

Experts Recommend Cod Liver Oil as Part of Daily Diet of Infants, Because of Its Power to Prevent and Cure Rickets.

New York.—The analysis of corn in the seed and at various stages of growth, in the course of experiments by Dr. Benjamin Harrow and others at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, has indicated that the vitamins are either produced by the sun as chlorophyll or that the production of vitamins depends on chlorophyll.

"The seed corn does not gain in its vitamin content when it sprouts," he said. "The vitamins seem to be the same in number. But as it shoots up and begins to turn green, the vitamins increase rapidly."

So far it is believed that vitamins of all types are produced originally by plants alone, and are not to be found in soil or non-organic compounds or in living things except as the result of vegetable food which contains them. This is hard to reconcile with the fact that the greatest known concentration of vitamins is in the liver of the cod which lives on an exclusive fish diet. Clams and other sea animals on which the cod lives, however, probably obtain from sea vegetation the vitamins which they pass on to the cod. Much of this vegetation, however, receives little or no sunlight on account of its depth, so that the different types of vitamins may be originated in different methods.

While cod-liver oil is the richest of all things in Vitamin A and is recommended by Doctor Harrow and his associates as a part of the daily diet of infants, because of its power to prevent and cure rickets, Doctor Harrow, Dr. Alfred F. Hess and other workers on this subject are doubtful whether it is the vitamin which cures the rickets.

Cause of Rickets Obscure.

"The doubt is due to the fact that rickets occurs among infants on a wide variation of diets, including many diets well supplied with Vitamin A," he said. "It has also been shown that the disease is caused by some disturbance in the proportion of calcium and phosphorus in the food of the infants. These are the two principal bone-makers and there is a shortage of phosphorus in the case of a child with rickets. The sunlight seems to produce this phosphorus. Cod-liver oil invariably restores the balance and cures the disease. But it is very likely that there is some other factor in the cod-liver oil rather than Vitamin A, which does this. In our laboratory and in many others researches are being made to identify this agent in cod-liver oil. There are various substances in the oil which are little understood at present. It may prove to be Vitamin A or a new vitamin, but it may be something of another nature."

"On the other hand, it is known that cod-liver oil is a perfect specific against rickets, which is unfortunately a very prevalent disease. Orange juice is given to infants as part of their daily diet for the prevention of scurvy, and cod-liver oil should be given to every infant in the same way. It is unpleasant to adults, but infants become exceedingly fond of it."

Dr. Casimir Funk, who discovered the vitamins, denied that there was any advantage in a large consumption of vitamins, and said that the public was not benefited by the propaganda to sell certain foods on the grounds that they were rich in these factors.

"Man cannot live without a minimum supply, but the average American gets plenty of all types in the average diet," he said.

$100,000 Would Eliminate It.

On the value of cod-liver oil against rickets, Doctor Hess wrote:

"There are approximately 125,000 children in New York city between the ages of three and fifteen months, the period of greatest susceptibility to rickets. If we estimate generously that the families of one-third to one-quarter of these children are unable to purchase cod-liver oil, and if we agree that the development of rickets may be prevented by giving a teaspoonful three times a day, then at the present cost rickets could be practically abolished in this city by the expenditure of about $100,000 a year. This is but one of many instances in which the community does not get the full benefit of our medical knowledge."

Trolley Car Cuts Snake.

Tamaqua, Pa.—While a bunch of bananas was being unloaded from a truck in front of Schmauch & Pelph's grocery store on West Broad street, here, a snake uncurled itself from the stalk, crawled down over the driver's back and started to cross the thoroughfare, only to be caught under the wheels of a trolley car and cut in half. The snake was of the Southern diamond species, almost five feet in length. It is supposed to have been dormant, owing to the cool weather, and was aroused by the heat of the sun.

TO AID SHIPS AT SEA

Marconi Announces the invention of a Radio Searchlight.

Famous Italian Wireless Wizard Explains New Device Which He Predicts Will Rid Sea of Much of Its Terrors.

New York.—Senator Guglielmo Marconi, wonder man of wireless, announced the invention of what might be termed a radio searchlight, by means of which radio waves, which can be reflected like light waves, may be sent in a given direction in a beam instead of being scattered to all points of the compass.

The famous Italian said he believed this invention could be utilized in such a manner as to rid the sea of some of its terrors, for with a revolving reflector the transmitter would constitute a radio lighthouse, capable of flashing guiding beams nearly a hundred miles. Addressing a joint meeting of the Institute of Radio Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers on his latest discoveries, the inventor said of the proposed radio lighthouse:

"By means of the revolving beam of electrical radiation it is possible for ships when within a certain distance to ascertain in thick weather the bearing and position of the lighthouse."

"It seems to me that it should be possible to design apparatus by means of which a ship could radiate or project a divergent beam of the short wave rays in any desired direction, which rays, if coming across a metallic object, such as another steamer, would be reflected back to a receiver on the sending ship and thereby immediately reveal the presence and bearing of the other ship in fog or thick weather."

Marconi's radio searchlight bears little resemblance to the battleship searchlight. It is rather a special arrangement of wires on towers or masts.

During his lecture Marconi exhibited pictures of reflectors resembling the weird apparatus pictured in imaginary tales of the conquest of the world by Martians. Through the use of these reflectors at both ends, clear speech was exchanged during experiments over a distance of ninety-nine miles, he announced.

81 YEARS YOUNG

When the firm that J. F. Edgeworth, age eighty-one, was working for tried to retire him on an old age pension at the age of seventy-one, they did not meet with much success. Instead, Mr. Edgeworth feeling that he was just in the prime of life and still a star salesman, decided that he would start selling on his own account. And now, at the age of eighty-one, he finds that he has built up a lucrative business in selling photograph supplies. "Jimmy," as he is known to all his customers, is one of the spriest salesmen in Chicago, and says that he cannot see any retirement in sight for himself for a great many years.

Bachelor Hotel to Be Built in Chicago.
Chicago.—A 20-story, 750-room bachelor hotel, to cost $4,000,000, will be built in Chicago and opened next spring by New York City interests, says a recent announcement. Work will be begun on the building within a month.

Bees Latest Violators of the Prohibition Law

Bee bootleggers that manufacture alcohol-flavored honey are the latest violators of the Volstead act in Clatsop county, Oregon. County Agricultural Agent McMinden asserts that since so many stills have been operated in the county, quantities of fermented mash have been dumped in isolated spots and bees feed on the mash. As a result the contents of some of the hives are highly flavored, according to the county agent.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still careful not to do heavy work—and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

MOTHERS—it is worthy of your confidence.

STAKES FOR KENTUCKY RACES ANNOUNCED

The stakes for the autumn meetings of the Kentucky Jockey Club, to be held at Louisville, Lexington and Latonia have been announced. Entries for the various stakes close on Saturday, August 5.

The Jockey Club will give away $77,500 in added purses to the horsemen at the three meetings. The big stakes that will provide the largest purses for the owners of thoroughbreds to shoot at are the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, for two-year-olds, worth $10,000, to be run at Churchill Downs; the Breeders' Futurity, worth $5,000, for two-year-olds to be run at Lexington; the Queen City Handicap, worth $10,000, for two-year-olds, and the Latonia Championship, worth $15,000, for three-year-olds, to be run at Latonia.

The Latonia Championship Stakes will bring together the cream of the three-year-olds in the country at a time when they have all reached their best form.

The entries for these stakes are closed as the horses have to be nominated in their first year. The stakes are worth $15,000, the largest to be given horsemen in any event in the autumn racing season in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes for two-year-olds will be a feature of the meeting at Churchill Downs. It is worth $10,000 and will find the youngsters traveling over the mile route. Two other stakes will be contested for at the meeting in Lexington. They are the Goldenrod Handicap for older horses. They are worth $5,000 each. The youngsters will go seven furlongs in their event, while the older animals will meet over the mile and an eighth route.

Lexington's biggest race will be the Breeders' Futurity. It is over the regulation futurity course which is 120 feet short of six furlongs. The stake is worth $5,000 and a large band of racers has been nominated.

Seven moneyed events are down for decision at Latonia. The Latonia Championship and the Queen City Handicap lead the list. However, the Latonia Cup Handicap for older horses and over the two and one-quarter miles route is worth $7,500 and is sure to draw a large field. The Covington Handicap at a mile and three sixteenths is another event worth $5,000 that is certain to be an attraction. The Fort Thomas Autumn and Latonia Handicap are each worth $5,000.

Large numbers of entries for these events have been received.

In India about 600,000 acres are devoted to the growing of indigo.

LIQUID AIR FOR CRACKING NUTS

(Science Service)
Liquid air for cracking nuts is the latest application of science. Experts of the National Bureau of Standards were appealed to for a method of breaking the shells of the chicha nuts, without damaging the kernels. They found that it took a weight of nearly a ton to crack the nuts, and that after that effort the meat of the nut was broken in many small pieces.

Then they applied liquid air to the problem. They did not freeze solid a piece of rubber and use it for a hammer, as is done in the classic stunt of physics, but they simply immersed the nuts in liquid air for thirty seconds and cracked them easily, without damaging the kernels. Now the physicists are trying to find out whether this method can be applied commercially on a large scale.

Chicha nuts are grown in South America. Their dense strong shells were used during the war to make charcoal for gas masks, and the oil from the kernels is a valuable food, similar to copra.

DEBATERS GOING TO FRANCE

(New York World)
A European trip involving a series of debates with universities in Great Britain and on the Continent has been arranged for this summer by the New York University debating team. The first debate will be with the University of Edinburgh late in June. There will also be a debate with the University of Paris. In this debate the New York University students will open the debate in French and the French debater will speak in English. Speaking in rebuttal, each team will use its own language, and an interpreter will translate.

The subject to be debated will be: "Resolved, That the Allied War Debt to the United States Should Be Cancelled." The New York University debaters will be prepared to take either side of the question, leaving the choice to their opponents.

AN AWFUL TIME

The Middletown (Md.) Register declares that with so many radio outfits springing up in Baltimore, funny things are happening. "Some sensitive persons," says the Register, "are having an awful time getting to sleep because of the bedtime stories catching on the springs of their beds. A row of iron dish rags at a five and ten cent store frightened the lady clerk out of a week's appetite by giving a lecture on careless husbands. Another lady, whose boy is installing a radio outfit, was taking to a neighbor with a potato masher in her hand, when all of a sudden the masher joined in the conversation. Both ladies fainted and the potato masher quit after giving the weather report, the baseball scores and singing a song."

A PLANT THAT SNEEZES

(Le Petit Parisien, Paris)
The recent discovery of a coughing plant has been reported. The Vulgarisation Scientifique mentions still another species which sneezes. The former grows in certain tropical countries and bears a bean-like fruit. It appears to have a decided distaste for dust, and when a little is placed on one of its leaves the respiratory organs of the plant inflate and the dust is expelled with a curious noise, for all the world like a child with the whooping cough.

We are not told the name of either plant and doubtless they are closely related, if not identical.

Mountain of Sulphur.

By looking on a map of the South seas, one can find the New Hebrides, about 900 miles east of Queensland, Australia, and southeast of the Solomons. At the north end of the group is an island called Vanua Lava. This island is a mountain, a big one, 1,900 feet high and covering an area of 100 square miles. But the remarkable thing about it is that it is composed wholly of sulphur. Nothing like it is to be found anywhere in the world.

SIT IN JUDGMENT ON 2-CENT PIECE

British Law Lords Give Grave Consideration to Appeal of Scotsman.

WINS A FAVORABLE DECISION

May Sue Traction Company, Whose Conductor Refused to Accept Battered Coin Offered in Payment of Fare.

London.—The five law lords, constituting the house of lords, in session as the supreme court of appeals, sat around in solemn semicircle. Lord Haldane sat in the place of lord chancellor upon the woolsack, with the throne itself behind him. Lord Finlay and Lord Cave sat upon his right, Lord Dunedin and Lord Wrenbury upon his left. In the magnificent chamber, its red benches nearly empty except for a group of lawyers and officials near the entrance, the five law lords, in grave tones befitting their high function, read out their learned judgments one by one. Notable documents these, in which the five concurred in one decision, abounding in such portentous words as torts, malfeasances, condescendences and the like.

Clearly a landmark this, in the history of the development of the law of England. What grave matter was thus engaging the earnest consideration of the noble and learned lords? Surely nothing less than the fate of some great township, or the destiny of some estate of millions?

My noble and learned lords, in point of fact, were talking about a penny—a two-cent piece. It sounds better translated into American currency. My Lord Finlay seems to think something the same himself, for throughout his judgment he referred to it not as a "penny," but as a "penny piece," or "a coin." Need it be said whose penny it was; that had been carried up all the various steps of the law into the house of lords? It was a Scotsman's penny.

Conductor Refuses Penny.
Almost two years ago one John Percy climbed upon a street car in the city of Glasgow. He tendered to the conductor of the car in payment of his fare a penny which was slightly marked and indented. It was, in fact, a penny which John Percy had himself received earlier in the day from another conductor, and he determined to return it in the way by which it had come to him. The conductor, however, did not like the looks of the penny, and demanded another in its place. John Percy said it was good enough and refused to give another. An inspector was called to reinforce the conductor, and still John Percy refused.

Finally he was marched off to the police station on a charge of refusing to pay his fare. He was kept there only ten minutes, but this was long enough to fire him with determination to see justice done between himself and the Glasgow corporation, which owns the street cars.

John Percy then commenced an action against the corporation for $25,000 damages on the ground that the actions of the conductor and inspector had been injurious to his feelings and his reputation. He lost the first round of his fight in Scotland when the court of session dismissed his claim, on the ground that the corporation was not responsible for these actions of its employees.

One "Bonnie" Fighter.
But John Percy is evidently what they call in Scotland a "bonnie fighter," and he carried his case up to the house of lords. He did not pay his railroad fare to London for the purpose, nor is he being put to any expense in the costly process of suing before the highest court of appeal. He has taken advantage of the legal provision which permits a poor person to set the law in motion at the state's charge if he sues in forma pauperis. And now the house of lords has decided in his favor.

Whether John Percy's penny really was good or no better than it should be is still not decided. What the law lords have ruled is that the corporation can be sued upon a mistake made by the conductor and inspector. That is enough for John Percy. It may be added, as a matter of historical interest, that of the five law lords who upheld John Percy in his fight for his two cents three are Scotsmen.—Warre B. Wells in New York Tribune.

KILLED IN FIGHT WITH BEAR

Aged Man Is Slain and Partly Devoured by Grizzly After Terrific Battle Near Yellowstone Park.

Livingston, Mont.—Yellowstone park rangers are trailing a huge grizzly bear that recently killed and partly devoured Joseph Duret, sixty, an old-time Montana trapper. Duret's body was found on Slough creek, near the park, with an arm and a leg partly chewed off. Signs indicated the bear had been caught in one of Duret's traps, but had broken loose when the trapper came by on his rounds.

Horace M. Albright, superintendent of the park, said there were evidences of a terrific battle, and a rifle, clawed and chewed, was found near the broken trap. One shot had been fired from the rifle and a bloody trail showed that the man had crept a mile and a half after receiving his injuries.

MORE FOREIGN WHITES

Census Bureau Figures Show Increase of 13 Per Cent.

Count in 1920 Showed 36,398,658 Foreign White Stock in the United States, including 13,712,754 Who Came as Immigrants.

Washington, D. C.—The Department of Commerce announces that according to the census of 1920 the total foreign white stock in the United States on January 1 of that year was 36,398,658. By "foreign white stock" is meant the total foreign born white population plus the native white population having one or both parents foreign born. The corresponding total for 1910 was 22,243,382. The increase of the foreign white stock between 1910 and 1920 was, therefore, 14,155,276, or 12.9 per cent.

The total for 1920 includes 13,712,754 who were foreign born and came to this country as immigrants, and 22,685,904 who were born in this country, but whose parents, one or both, were immigrants.

The classification of the foreign white stock by country of origin is based upon the prewar map of Europe, partly because of the difficulty of adjusting the returns in regard to the birthplace of parents so as to agree with the changed boundaries of European countries and partly in order that comparisons might be made with the figures of previous census, taken in 1910. The names of the several countries, therefore, indicate the territory embraced within these countries before the war.

The total foreign white stock from each of the principal countries of origin was as follows: Germany, 7,259,997; Ireland, 4,136,395; Russia, 3,871,123; Italy, 3,336,945; Austria, 3,129,796; Canada, 2,603,828; England, 2,307,112; Sweden, 1,457,382; Hungary, 1,110,905; Norway, 1,023,225.

Of the 7,259,997 persons of foreign stock whose country of origin was Germany, 1,915,867 were immigrants whose fathers were born in prewar Germany and 5,344,130 were natives of the United States whose parents were immigrants born in prewar Germany. These two groups may be designated, respectively, as the first and second generation from Germany. Not all of them are German by race or stock, as the classification is determined by place of birth without regard to racial stock.

The members in the first and second generations from some of the principal countries of Europe were as follows: Germany, 1,915,867, first generation, and 5,344,130 second generation; Ireland 1,164,707 and 2,971,688; Russia 2,020,660 and 1,850,463; Italy, 1,615,184 and 1,721,761; Austria, 1,445,141 and 1,684,655; Canada, 861,450 and 1,742,378; England, 824,088 and 1,483,024; Sweden, 632,656 and 824,726; Hungary 598,170 and 512,735; Norway, 362,051 and 661,174.

THREE OF A KIND

Should parents of triplets pass the hat or the cigars? That is the problem bothering Mr. and Mrs. Al Kaufman of Washington, D. C. Here is the proud papa with his three children, all of whom are doing nicely, despite the fact they were born some two months prematurely. Hospital authorities say the youngsters are exceptionally healthy and well developed for triplets of whom two are girls and one a boy, the aggregate weights being 14 pounds and 1 ounce.

HANGED IN 1877, LIVES YET

Ex-Bandit Now Wants to Stand Trial for Robbery Committed in Missouri.

Tacoma, Wash.—Forty-five years ago a posse in Missouri captured a desperate bandit, upon whose head a price was set. The bandit was duly hanged to a cottonwood tree near Joplin, Mo. July 12, 1877. The posse dispersed and a woman, whom the bandit had befriended, cut him down and he re-covered from the ordeal.

This is the story told by an aged resident of Tacoma, who has written to a newspaper here to learn if he can still be tried for robberies "in which men were killed."

Florence, Italy.—Bones believed to be those of Giovanni Boccaccio, the great Italian fourteenth century novelist and poet, have been found in the house at Certaldo in which he lived. The bones were solemnly removed to Florence by a well-known archeologist, accompanied by various Boccaccio admirers.
